

We're Not Done Yet!

When I think about everything needed to keep 10 orphanages running— food, clothing, medicines, schooling— I'm overwhelmed.

In some areas we have no electricity, in others no running water. In still others, no medicine. All need buildings, food and clothing.

That's why I am so thankful for each one of you who have joined your heart, your prayers, and your finances to help make a difference.

Last year you made it possible to add yet another home in Guinea-Bissau, West Africa, which continues to provide help and hope in a country where thousands struggle against disease and poverty.

Thru this home we will be able to expand our outreach to the outermost bush villages thru the building of clinics and schools. We will be able to supply these villages with Christian teachers and medical workers who graduate from the school and vocational training program run by Fredy and Raquel Schafer, the directors of this home.

We are making progress. But there is much more to be done.

There are thousands of children in Africa who have no one. No one to feed them or to love them. No one to hold them when they are afraid. Kiss them when they are hurt. Wash their clothes or give them a meal.

The task is far too great for a few people alone. Yet many working together can help save a generation of children from a life of poverty and despair. One Dormitory, one clinic, one school, one child at a time. It can be done. But it takes money and lots of it.

Please help make it possible for Life Link to reach out to more children!

We need more people to join us.

People who believe that every child's life is worth saving and are willing to put that conviction into action. You can help by sharing this need with others.

Telling someone why you support the work of Life Link is one of the best ways to encourage them to do so as well.

On behalf of the children of Africa and the Philippines who are counting on you, thank you for participating in this ministry.

P.S. If you haven't become a monthly supporter of this ministry, won't you do so now?

You can begin to enjoy the benefits of giving today—the feeling that because of your monthly gift of $10, $20, $30 or more a life was saved, a child is being fed, a little girl has a safe place to sleep.
